FULL CIRCLE
2021 SENIOR CAPSTONE SHOWCASE

AUGUST 19, 2021
6PM EST
Suffering produces perseverance, perseverance, character, and character, hope. Romans 5:3-4 NKJV

The journey of a Howard University Dance Arts student has its challenges and victories. Our students engage in four years of rigorous mental, physical, and spiritual training with the hope to obtain their goals in life. The Senior Seminar course is the final step in their tenure as they prepare to enter the professional world -- we engage in career planning and building, collaboration with other artists and alumni in the field, and of course, develop the Capstone project. This presentation is their homage to the work and experience during their time at Howard.

But I would be remiss if I did not acknowledge the unique circumstances of their journey. From living in a state of constant trauma due to an unjust system fueled by racial tension to a global pandemic that has completely impacted our daily lives, these young scholars have persevered in this new age of virtual learning that none of us have ever experienced. They have taken this new set of challenges and discovered even more streams within them. I am proud to welcome them into the alumni circle and look forward to their contributions to the field and the world around us. May you continue in the struggle, with determination, grace, and expectation that your wildest dreams can come true.

Special acknowledgement and congratulations to our graduating Dance Arts minors as well, and best wishes as you embark on your professional endeavors.

Love and Light... Peace and Blessings
MESSAGE FROM THE ARTISTIC TEAM

While directly referencing the Adinkra symbol/aphorism developed by the Akan people of Ghana the spelling is a nod to the soon to be reinstatement of the College of Fine Arts. Sankofa as a concept means looking back or acknowledging one’s past as we move forward. That simple statement will shape our offerings this year. Our past is filled with immeasurable loss and sorrow but also significant triumphs and (s)heroes that have reshaped the world. The celebrations have sometimes been clouded by missteps but our journey has shaped the ground on which we stand. That history positions all who bear the torch, that Howard University Department of Theatre Arts character, to stand on the front line with our communities presenting our stories, our songs, our dances and our visions for radical change. Causing “Good Trouble” with our Art we offer you the season of SANCOFA.

The 2020-2021 SanCOFA Season is being led by Artistic Director- Eric Ruffin and Assistant Artistic Director- Dominique Douglas Hendricks, with support from T.W. Starnes as the SanCOFA Virtual Technical Director and Kevin Thorne II as Assistant to the Artistic Director. Although coming together physically has presented its limitations, DoTA still plans to wow its audiences, connect with alumni, engage the community and reach the globe.

We hope you’ll join us!

DEAR WOMAN
CHOOREOGRAPHER: JAY’KAYLA WINFORD
Dancers: Jamyra Lasalle, Domenique Ross, Riche Williams, Jay’kayla Winford
Voice Overs: Arkashia Branch, Jamyra Lasalle, Janiya Nolden, Domenique Ross, D’Laurea Trice; Geneva White, Riche Williams, Jay’kayla Winford
Music/ Artist: “Who Are You: A Message to All Women” by Jon Jorgenson; “Cinematic Piano”; “Phenomenal Woman” by Maya Angelou; “Upbeat Instrumental”
Synopsis: Dear Woman is a piece supporting women’s empowerment, values, and worth. Throughout my experiences and being surrounded by other women, I realize we often lack confidence nor recognize our unique characteristics due to the reality of our situations or just being misunderstood. Dear Woman is a message to celebrate women -- their beauty, identity, self-worth, and values.

AS TOLD BY THEM
CHOOREOGRAPHER: DARRELL MOULTRIE
Dancer: Gillian Clifford
Music/ Voice over: “Smoke Gets in Your Eyes” by Miles Davis; Voiceovers by Nadine & Stephen Clifford
Synopsis: A short dance film that shares the growth of Gillian throughout her matriculation, told through the perspective of her parents.

WAITING
CHOOREOGRAPHER: GENEVA WHITE
Dancer: Geneva White
Music/ Voice over: Spoken Word by Geneva White; “Agape” by Nicolas Britell
Synopsis: Waiting is a dance film that speaks on the uncomfortable feeling of being told to wait. Graduating senior Geneva is discovering and exploring her transition into adulthood.

BLACK ROSES
CHOOREOGRAPHER: NAOMI K. JOHNSON
Dancer: Naomi K. Johnson
Music/ Artist: “Merry Christmas Mr.Lawrence” by Ryuichi Sakamoto; “On the Dance Floor” by Spark
Synopsis: In life you learn it is important to give our loved ones their roses while they are alive. This project is a tribute to my late father, Peter I. Johnson, who recently passed away. Throughout this work, you will uncover the ray of emotions that myself and siblings battle each day. It is my hope that through this piece, audience members will ultimately take away that there is no one way to grieve.

BLACK IS
CHOOREOGRAPHER: SIANI BECKETT
Dancers: Siani Beckett, Aiyah Clay, Deirdre Dunkin, Tiana Jackson, Tanasia Lane, Tiana Sanders, James Smith;
Music/ Voice over: “Wiseman Remake” (instrumental) by tr3ystrike; “The Beginning and the End” by Sault;
Tamara Beckett (Interview); Craig Kirby (Interview)
Synopsis: Black Is... is a dance film that explores the Black identity through themes of pain and joy. It discusses the pressures of trying to measure up and assimilate to a standard set by society. In an attempt to reclaim one’s identity outside of the box we were put in, we begin to fight for the normalization of Blackness in every form. While fighting for the freedom to be ourselves, we start to find the joy in all things that we are, all of what society has deemed as wrong. In the end, we discover that there is no singular answer to what Black is but it is through our shared experiences that we see the answers overlap.
MEET OUR SENIORS

SIANI BECKETT

Siani Beckett is a senior Dance Arts major at Howard University from New Castle, Delaware. In 2014, she became a member of Eleone Connection (PA), Eleone Dance Theatre’s second company. Throughout her college career, Siani has worked with artists such as Tommie-Waheed Evans, Maleek Washington, and Sidra Bell. Siani has been a member of Breathe Dance Project (BDP) since 2018. She is also an aspiring choreographer and a strong advocate for the arts. Siani’s work as Social Media Manager for the Department of Theatre Arts’ Marketing Team and management in the Dance Arts program at Howard has driven her to pursue a career in Arts Administration. She is currently an intern at the International Association of Blacks in Dance in the Programs department. After graduation, Siani plans to continue work in Arts Administration and choreography across the US.

GILLIAN CLIFFORD

Gillian Clifford is a 21-year-old Graduating Senior Dance major and Strategic, Law, and Management Communications minor attending Howard University. Throughout her years of dancing, she has trained with multiple well known companies and organizations such as NYSSSA (New York State Summer School of the Arts), Joffrey Ballet, Alvin Ailey American Dance Theatre, Anthony Burrell’s Breaking Barriers, Contemporary West Dance Theatre, Deeply Rooted Dance Theatre, Dallas Black Dance Theatre, and the Radio City Rockettes. During her time at Howard, she has performed in four showcases with pieces choreographed by both students and guest choreographers, including Tommie Waheed-Evans, Brian Flynn, and Edward Franklin. Currently, she is a company member with Company E in Washington, D.C. and plans to continue her concert dance career after graduation.

NAOMI K. JOHNSON

Naomi Kimberly Johnson is a senior Dance Arts major and Journalism minor at Howard University from Brooklyn, NY. Her love of dance led her to join the Restoration Dance Theater Company (RDTC) where she ultimately received her pre-professional training in the disciplines of Ballet, Modern and West African dance under the instruction of Ronald K. Brown. Throughout college, Naomi has served in many leadership roles including but not limited to; social media manager of WHBC Howard University Radio and the Howard University Royal Court Coordinator. This past summer Naomi interned at the National Football League with the Events and Business department. Most recently Naomi has started her own company, BombButterfly, LLC, which, is a fierce and powerful community of women driven by love; challenging each other to maximize their potential by inspiring them to become the best versions of themselves through workshops, events, and conversations about us, designed by us, and powered by us. Upon graduation, Naomi plans to join the National Football League as an Events Coordinator in New York City.
MEET OUR SENIORS

GENEVA WHITE

Geneva White is a graduating senior Dance Arts major from Howard University from Brooklyn, NY. She began dancing at the age of 15 at Abundance Academy of the Arts. She trained in Ballet, West African, Jazz, Contemporary, Modern, Singing, and Acting. During Geneva’s matriculation at Howard, she has taken master classes from various teaching artists and has choreographed her first of many works. Geneva plans to continue her studies to become a Physical Therapist Assistant as well as train and intern with renowned companies in NYC. Her tenacious attitude is leading her to pursue her dreams of becoming a professional dancer.

JAY’KAYLA WINFORD

Jay’kayla Winford is a Senior Dance Major from East St. Louis, Illinois. She has studied dance for 17 years in various styles such as Dunham Technique, Ballet, Jazz, African, HipHop, and Contemporary dance. After graduation she is eager to continue her journey and will serve as a teaching artist at the Southern Illinois University Edwardsville Performing Arts Center in Illinois. She also plans to pursue both concert and commercial dance opportunities. She lives by the quote, “Remember to celebrate milestones as you prepare for the road ahead.” - Nelson Mandela.

LAURABETHANY STRONG

LauraBethany Strong - (Guest Artist/Returning Student) A native of St. Louis, Missouri, LauraBethany began studying dance at the tender age of three. She started her professional career at 16 years old as an Actor’s Equity member with the St. Louis Municipal Opera. Continuing her dance training led her to Howard University, where she became a Dance major under the direction of Dr. Sherrill Berryman-Johnson. After numerous professional opportunities, she made the decision to take leave from Howard and move to New York City upon receiving a scholarship to the Alvin Ailey School. In 2001, LauraBethany relocated to Los Angeles to further propel her professional career. After landing several high-profile jobs, she began to make a name for herself as a dancer, movement coach, and choreographer. She has worked with artists such as Babyface, Christina Aguilera, Janet Jackson, Beyonce, Jennifer Hudson, Natalie Cole, Lady Gaga and the list goes on. She’s also no stranger to TV/Film, appearing in commercials, TV shows, and films like Will and Grace, Idlewild, The Great Observer, The Comebacks, Bring It On Again, and a list of award shows. You have also seen her as a straight-talking judge on Laurieann Gibson’s Born To Dance. In 2017, LauraBethany was nominated for a British Arrow Award for her choreography in a NIKE campaign. She has returned to Howard after 22 years to finish her degree and is extremely grateful for the wealth of knowledge that has been gained from traveling around the world and learning the business from icons.
